Accounting Plan May Bring Cut in Revenue Staff

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney told the Arkansas Legislative Council today his department staff could be slashed by 25 percent if a central accounting system were adopted.

Cheney, who went before the council to present a budget request of $2,177,000 annually for the next two years, pointed out that most of the records processed in his department are handled manually.

The heavy volume of records requires manpower that could be reduced if the department were mechanized, Cheney said.

The commission also advocated drive-in windows for the department to facilitate tax payments. He said many persons complain they can't find a parking space when bringing their payments to the Capitol.

"And they have a right to complain," Cheney said, "because after all, they are footing the bill." The Revenue Department's budget included a requested increase.

Washington Restoration Tax-Exempt

The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation now enjoys a tax-free status, Judge James L. Pilkinton, President of the Foundation, said today.

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that contributions made to the Foundation will be deductible by the donors in computing their taxable net incomes in the manner and to the extent provided by law. The ruling was made on November 18, 1958.

Judge Pilkinton said that the Foundation Board hoped that the citizens of this area would support the Foundation by their gifts before the end of this year and take advantage of the deduction against 1958 income, so that the restoration work could be started soon after January 1st.

Referendum on Cotton Quotas

The referendum on upland cotton marketing quotas, to be held in the cotton producing areas Dec. 15, will be the 14th time growers have registered their choice on how they want to market their crop. Jay Neal Jr., Chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

Marketing quotas have been in effect continuously for the last five years. The first vote on cotton marketing quotas was held in 1932, and the last previous cotton referendum was in December 1957. In the last vote, 72.9 per cent of the farmers voting expressed approval of using the quotas for the 1958 cotton crop.

Big 3 Agreed on Plan to Hold Onto Berlin

By REINHOLD ENSZ

BERLIN (AP)— The Three Western powers have formed a plan for firm common action to prevent being ousted from East Berlin, diplomatic officials said tonight.

The top secret plan was drafted within the past few days in diplomatic negotiations among the United States, Britain and France.

Senior officials said the plan outlines in detail how the three powers will react if the Russians turn over to the East German Communists control of the vital access arteries to this island behind the Iron Curtain.

Their garrisons totaling 10,000 men are now supplied over rail, air and road links that are controlled by the Russians. The three powers decline to recognize East German authority over these routes.

They are in full agreement, it was said, that they will refuse to accept an East German substitute for the Russian on the four-power Allied air safety center in East Berlin.

This center controls all commercial and military air traffic between West Germany and West Berlin.

The three-power agreement came as Walter Ulbricht, Communist boss of East Germany, said he was prepared to negotiate with the Allies about their access lines to Berlin.

Rampage of Pair Ends in Death, Injury

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The apparently senseless rampage of two men Monday night ended in the death of a tavern patron, wounding of a bartender and the kidnapping, beating and robbery of a taxi driver.

One of the men, out of prison only since Saturday, was arrested. Police identified him as Norman Eugene Lunsford 25. The other man was still being sought.

Cpl. Philip Dwyer said homicide charges would be filed against Lunsford. He finished a five-year term for burglary Saturday.

Dwyer said this apparently was the sequence of events: "They were in a tavern, Pat and Rose's, and started shooting up the place, firing into the wall, they forced a barmaid to call a taxi."

Cab driver William Patch, 50, picked them up. Lunsford produced a pistol and directed Patch to drive to East St. Louis, across the Mississippi.

Patch said the other man repeatedly slugged him on the back of the head. Then they took $35 from him and made him lie on the floor of the cab while they drove back to St. Louis.

At some time, they entered a filling station. Lunsford waved the pistol around and punched out the windshield of a customer's car with his fist. The men drove off without paying the gasoline bill.

In a nearby tavern, owned by John Bradley, 50, they got into an argument with other customers.

Bradley said he heard a shot and saw Wesley Huson, 31, slump to the floor. Next he felt a bullet strike his own arm. Huson was dead.

The men left the tavern and apparently separated. One of them purchased a package of cigarettes in another bar.

Then, Dwyer said, "Lunsford apparently circled back and we picked him up. He was swearing to beat the band, claiming the cops were always after him and framing him."

Bulletin

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— The U. S. Weather Bureau here issued the following severe weather warning today:

"A line of thunderstorms is expected to develop in south central Missouri and north central Arkansas early this afternoon, Tuesday, and move rapidly eastward with a few severe thunderstorms accompanied by isolated damaging winds and the possibility of one or two tornadoes in an area 60 miles north and 30 miles south of a line from 40 miles west of Phipps, Ark., to 70 miles south southeast of Vandalia, Ill., from 8 p. m. until 7 p. m."

Highway Dept. Pressured Into Ferry Care

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— The Arkansas Highway Commission today amended its contract with the operator of the Tond Suck Ferry near Conway to provide free service for 12 hours daily beginning Dec. 1.

The commission bought the remaining interest of the operator, Clay Cross, for $5,408 to make the ferry entire state-owned.

It agreed to pay Cross $20,000 for operating the ferry the first year under the new contract, $18,000 for the second year, $18,000 for the third year and $17,500 for each succeeding year the agreement remains in force.

The contract requires Cross to operate the ferry free of charge between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., except when high water prevents operation entirely.

Cross is permitted to charge tolls whenever he operates the ferry outside those hours. The contract requires him to maintain landings, approaches and access roads on both sides of the river.

Commission Chairman Glen Wallace of Nashville said the contract seemed quite beneficial for both parties. He said Cross had been operating the tollferry at a loss under the old contract.

Wallace said a study had indicated it would cost the state $25,000 annually to provide the service. Cross will render under the contract.

Cities Okay Move to Repeal Bond Ceiling

ROT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)— The Arkansas Municipal League yesterday adopted a legislative program calling for repeal of a five-million-dollar ceiling on bonds issued by cities for capital improvements.

The legislative recommendations will be presented to the 1959 General Assembly.

In adopting the report of its Legislative Committee, the league also urged that the legislature modernize state laws regulating city purchasing and that state turnback funds to cities be increased in proportion to increases in total general revenues.

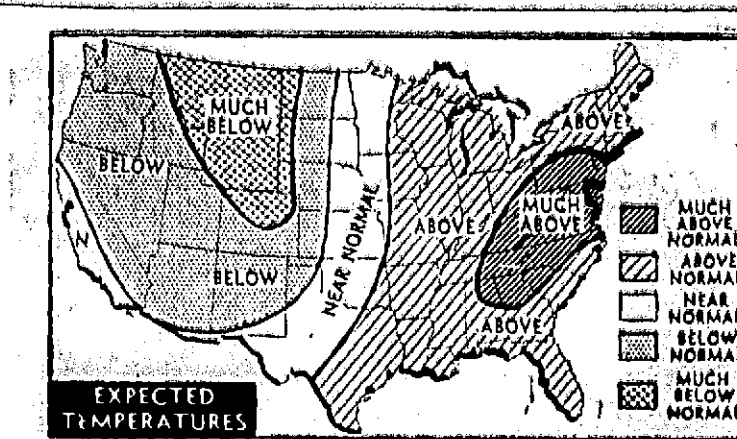

On the latter point, the committee pointed out that since 1951 municipalities have been selling a fixed $2,310,000 turnback from general revenues, while during that time general revenues have increased from about 30 million dollars to 90 million.

Action on two other legislative proposals was deferred for further study. One would call for the reinstatement of municipal authority to levy automobile license fees; the other a popular vote on a proposed home rule constitutional amendment. The Legislature also abolished the cities authority to collect fees for licensing automobiles.

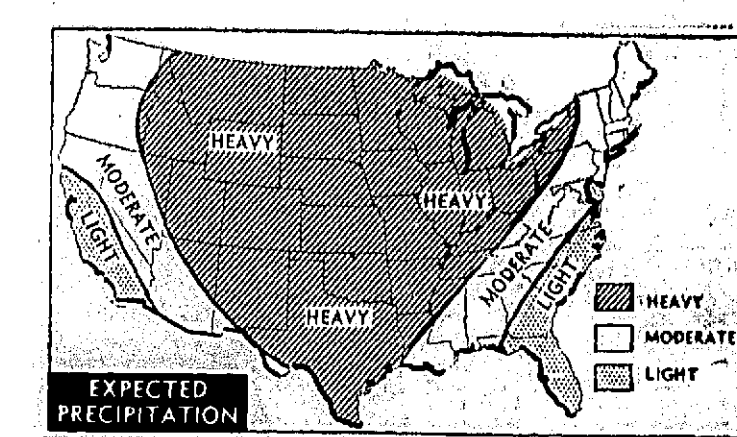

Mayor William F. Laman of North Little Rock was elected president succeeding Mayor Ben F. Butler of Osceola.

Elected district vice presidents were Mayors Ray Row of Batesville, Flynn Chivers of Claydon, John Harsh of Magnolia, Austin Parish of Fayetteville and George Trout of Benton.

Haskell Ray of Texarkana was named secretary.

The temperature outlook from mid-November to mid-December calls for above normal in the eastern half of the nation and below normal in the western half. Greatest departures from seasonal norms are indicated in the northern Rocky Mountain states and the middle Appalachian area.

Expected precipitation for the period of mid-November to mid-December presents an unusual pattern. Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over most areas lying between the Rocky Mountains and the Appalachians. Elsewhere in the country, subnormal to normal amounts are anticipated.

U. S. Alleges Own Fault Man Bayoneted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— The federal government says it was Paul C. Downs' own fault that he was wounded in front of Little Rock Central High School last year by a bayonet welding paratrooper.

Downs, a Springdale farmer, filed suit in U. S. District Court Sept. 13 seeking $5,000 damages against the government. He charged that he suffered a bayonet wound to the arm while nine Negro students were being escorted into the school under guard of the 101st Airborne Division.

In its answer to the suit, the government said Downs was wounded because of his own negligence and charged that he disobeyed orders to move when the paratroopers dispersed an anti-integration crowd in front of Central High.

The government also contended that Downs was not in front of the school for peaceful or lawful purposes.

Downs' lawyer is Amos Guthridge, attorney for the pro-segregation Capital Citizens Council here. No hearing date has been set.

Pioneer of Washington Succumbs

Mrs. Charlean Moss Williams, 89, prominent historian and author of South Arkansas, died today at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. N. Trimble in El Dorado.

Mrs. Williams was born in Washington in 1869, a grand daughter of James Moss, who had been one of the founders of Hempstead, territory of Missouri in 1818.

She was a lifelong student of history of her area. Long ago she began a program to preserve the early history of Washington and Hempstead County and spent most of her lifetime in the accumulation of historical data. She presented a portion of this data in the form of a book, "The Old Town Speaks," which was published in 1951. The title referred to Washington and the contents were historical unpublished data of Hempstead County, principally of the era of her childhood following the Civil War.

For more than a quarter of a century Mrs. Williams pressed the development of the historical sites of Washington and lived to see the formation. Just this year, of a foundation set up to do the things she had advocated for years.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Trimble of El Dorado and Mrs. Quenton T. Cone of Osceola. Funeral services will be held in the Washington Presbyterian Church Wednesday at 2 p. m. Services will be conducted by a grandson, the Rev. W. Bradley Trimble, Rector of St. Mathias Episcopal Church of Shreveport. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers the family asks that contributions in memory of Mrs. Williams be sent to Pioneer Washington Restoration, Washington, Ark.

Five Airmen Die in Crash of Tanker

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)— Five airmen died in the flaming crash of a huge KC135 jet tanker at Loring Air Force Base today.

The Air Force said two of the men aboard were thrown clear of the wreckage and managed to get out "by some miracle." One of them escaped with a lacerated hand, the other suffered a broken arm and burns.

The survivors were identified as Capt. Herman J. Densenbach, 35, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Densenbach of Kirkwood, Miss., and T. Sgt. Charles A. Holsclaw, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Holsclaw of Madison, Ind.

Names of the victims were withheld.

The crash occurred in the same general area where a B47 jet bomber crashed last Saturday killing all four men aboard.

Air Force officials said the tanker had been flying on a mission for four hours and was coming in for touch and go landings—practicing landings and takeoff immediately.

Actually Did Not Have Time to Be Scared

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)— "Get scared?—there wasn't time—and after it was all over there was no reason to."

That was the way Robert F. Olson, 37-year-old suburban Rosemount farmer, described his reaction today to a dramatic kitchen knife operation in which he saved the life of his 71-year-old doctor father who was choking on a piece of ham at a wedding anniversary celebration.

The emergency surgery was performed Sunday by Robert and a brother, Charles, 40, in the kitchen of Robert Olson's farm home. They used a paring knife and tube from a fountain pen to open the windpipe of Dr. Charles A. Olson and restore the flow of oxygen to his lungs.

Neither brother had any medical training, Robert said he was elected to perform the operation because he knew where the windpipe was.

The doctor was described as in good condition in a hospital today and is expected to be released in a few days. Hospital physicians said they had to do "a little resect, paring work" on the incision in the doctor's throat, but that the two brothers saved the older man's life.

Charles Olson said his father's face was "gray-black" when they carried him from the dining room where some 30 guests were celebrating the doctors 25th wedding anniversary.

Judge Andrew A. Glenn, a St. Paul probate judge, said that after Robert made the incision a tube was needed to insert in the throat. He said he tried cutting a piece from the handiest object he had—a pen—but it was too big so they cut a piece from the barrel of a fountain pen he was carrying.

Charles Olson said "It took some pounding and moving him about, but we got my father breathing again."

U. S. Reports Living Cost as Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP)— Living costs as measured by the federal government remained unchanged in October.

The Labor Department reported today its consumer price index held steady at 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is the same as in August and September. The peak was 123.9 in July.

Hersey E. Riley, Labor Department price chief, said the over-all living cost level is leveling in a narrow range with slight increases for some consumer items and countering slight declines for others.

"We have stability achieved by a balance of forces," Riley said. He said this is expected to continue to rise next few months.

In October, food prices averaged 1/2 of 1 per cent lower than in September but prices of most other goods and services averaged higher.

Because of the relatively steady living cost level over the last three months, there will be no adjustment in pay rates for nearly one million workers in the auto and related industries whose labor contracts call for quarterly adjustments based on the government index.

However, decreases of about 1 cent are scheduled to go into effect in the pay rates of about 200,000 other workers, whose contracts have a different adjustment basis from the auto worker group.

The workers thus due for a pay cut—the first such downward adjustment based on the government index since March 1956—are employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corp., Dore & Co., Chicago Transit Authority and the General Aircraft Division of General Dynamics Corp.

Court Order Blocks Strike of AA Pilots

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— An 11th-hour court order blocked a pilots' strike at American Airlines and prevented the Thanksgiving holiday air travel crisis from becoming worse. Two other airlines are paralyzed by strikes.

The Air Line Pilots Assn. had threatened to strike American at midnight. Federal Judge Frederick V. P. Bryan issued a temporary restraining order Monday night postponing the walkout.

Eastern Air Lines, the country's largest air passenger carrier, shut down operations Monday as flight engineers and mechanics went out.

Trans World Airlines has been struck by 6,500 machinists since Friday.

The strike at Eastern sent holiday travelers rushing for alternate accommodations.

Other airlines were expanding their schedules and railroads added facilities to handle the Thanksgiving Day throngs. But it appeared that thousands of students, servicemen and others would not get home.

Judge Bryan's order required the pilots association to show cause by Friday why it should not be enjoined from striking. If sufficient cause is not shown, the order remains in effect while negotiations continue on the association's demands for higher pay, a shorter work schedule and other rule changes.

American asked for the restraining order on the grounds that a walkout by its 1,500 pilots would violate Railway Labor Act requirements for mediation and other compulsory "cooling off" measures.

The association argued it had fulfilled all such requirements.

About 7,500 Eastern employees stopped work, and both sides prepared for what they predicted would be a long strike. A company spokesman expressed doubt that it would be settled by Christmas.

Meanwhile, Capital Airlines said it would return to normal operations by today. A machinists' strike at Capital more than a month ago has been settled.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania Railroad said the line has been carrying extra equipment since the Capital strike.

DOROTHY DIX

Three Generations Form a Peaceful Partnership

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Young people today seem to feel they are doomed to a life of misery if they have to live with in-laws. This isn't necessarily so and perhaps some of your readers will be interested in one family's solution. When our daughter, who is our only child, married, she and her husband established their own little home. We felt this was the only way to avoid in-law troubles, although we had a house plenty big enough for all of us. The young folks had quite a struggle to make ends meet and it took everything we had to keep our house in repair, so we weren't able to help them much. Finally we got together, decided to pool our resources, and build a house that would be comfortable for all of us. This was 12 years ago and the plan has worked most successfully. My daughter and I divide the housework, she cooks and I stay out of the kitchen. I help with the children, my husband helps with outside work and makes minor repairs. The young folks have baby sitters available at all times, both families can now afford things we couldn't even dream of before and we older folks have the happiness of sharing the joys of youth again — A Happy Grandma.

Dear Lady: Nothing succeeds like success. Your plan has proved itself. However, you neglected to mention one thing without which it never could have been done. Your house was built on a cornerstone of diplomacy. Without it the experiment would have been doomed to failure. It takes love, tact, consideration and forbearance to make a three generation household work. You, and all the family, are to be commended for the achievement of a minor miracle.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Burton and I met on a very satisfactory blind date. He's a night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Anthony.

Mrs. Sarah Moses and daughter, Karen, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Powell, and brother, Tommy, in Junction City, La.

Comptroller Urges Revision of Salaries

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Comptroller Kelly Cornett indicated at a Legislative Council budget hearing today that he expects to leave office with Gov. Orval E. Faubus in two years.

In presenting his department's budget, Cornett said a requested salary increase for his job would benefit his successor more than himself.

"I don't expect to be here for more than two years, as this is a political appointment," Cornett said.

Perry Rep. Paul Van Dalsen commented, "Who knows, Faubus may run for a fourth term." Cornett asked that his salary be raised from $9,500 to $10,000 a year.

He also suggested a study of all state jobs to equalize salaries and responsibilities. Cornett said he knew of many secretaries who are paid $1,200 but are no better qualified than others drawing $3,000.

The comptroller asked for modest increases for other top drawer jobs in his department but the total request was $188,000 annually, the same as the current appropriation.

Other budgets heard today included: Local Audits Division of the Comptroller's Office $227,000, up $11,000.

Social Security and Retirement Division, an average of about $38,000 for the coming biennium, compared to $41,025 for last year.

Social Security Contributions Fund $3,000,000 a year compared to the current $2,700,000.

State Employees Retirement Fund $2,230,000 compared to $693,000.

Board of Finance $18,500, no change.

Claims Commission $67,700, no change.

Coaches Believe Bobcats to Remember Last Year

The Hope Bobcats round out their season Thanksgiving Day with the annual game with Nashville in Scraperland. The undefeated Bobcats are highly favored in the contest.

In regard to the Prescott game the Hope coaches praised the Bobcats' efforts. "We played some good football against Prescott and was glad the second team got to play as much as it did. Prescott was last without their 'Workhorse' Worthington but they hit hard and gave our second unit some good experience."

"Nashville has some big boys and has been getting ready for us for the past two weeks. We look for a rough game but expect our boys to be up for them. We would like to see our seniors really finish up their high school football careers with a victory."

"We want them to show more pride and determination this week than they have all year because Nashville made monkeys out of them last year at Hammond Stadium. I don't think the boys have forgotten that game either. I know the coaches haven't."

"Nashville always plays Hope tough and we don't expect them to be any other way this year. We coaches only hope the boys will get ready."

The kickoff at Nashville is at 2:15 p.m. A pre-game show will be staged by the Nashville girls' drill team.

Porkers Ninth in Cross Country Meet

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The University of Arkansas team placed ninth in the annual NCAA cross country run yesterday.

First place went to Michigan State with a low score of 78. Arkansas, the Southwest Conference cross country champion, had 239 points. No Razorback runner finished among the top 25.

Fourteen teams participated.

Picks Bobcats to End First Perfect Season

By JOHN R. STARR Associated Press Sports Writer Most of the conference championships already have been decided but the unofficial state championship rides on the results of Thanksgiving Day game in Arkansas schoolboy circles.

El Dorado, the season-long leader in The Associated Press rankings, closes its campaign against Camden at El Dorado while Little Rock Hall, a strong second place, meets Little Rock Central in Quigley Stadium.

An impressive Hall victory, and an El Dorado squeak could switch enough votes to give the perfect record Warriors the top spot. A 14-1 tie with Central is the only blemish on El Dorado's state record.

So, without further ado, here are the week's picks:

Central 10, Hall 14: No, Hall hasn't made a believer out of us yet. So we've been wrong on the Warriors five times. So we've seen Central win 'em when the chubs were down too many years to go against the Tigers.

El Dorado 35, Camden 0: And it could be worse, much worse. El Dorado isn't playing just a routine contest with Hall breathing down its neck.

North Little Rock 20, Catholic 12: The Rockets have come a long way. They'll learn the end of the big time road is not yet in sight.

Pine Bluff 14, Benton 0: As a Zebra alum, this gives us great pleasure after a long, trying year. De Queen 24, Texarkana 14: Except for this series and the Blytheville — Osceola annual set—, Class A teams very seldom measure their two-letter betters.

And, to wind up perfect seasons, we pick Hope over Nashville, Fordyce over Warren, Earle over Parkin and Greenwood over Mansfield.

Elsewhere: Mountain Home over Harrison, Conway over Morrilton, Forrest City over Wynne, Jonesboro over Paragould, Newport over Batesville, tuffgart over Brinkley, Jacksonville over Cabot, Malvern over Arkadelphia, Crussett over Hamburg.

The New York Stock Exchange is a major tourist attraction. More than 300,000 persons visited the exchange in 1957.

Reds Defeat the White Cagers

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorback varsity basketball squad split 1949-50 season last night, and the Reds defeated the Whites 60-52.

In a freshman — B team game, the Shotas picked up the marbles to the tune of 37-32.

Tommy Rankin of Jonesboro paced the winning Reds in the varsity game with 18 points, while Ronnie Garner, a Hot Springs sophomore, led the losers with 22 points.

Jerry Carlton of Sheridan was the Shotas' high scorer with 20 points. Senior Jewell Self of Little Rock led 17 for the B teamers.

The Razorbacks varsity opens its regular season Dec. 3 against the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Saratoga, Delight Split Pair

Saratoga and Delight cage teams split a doubleheader Friday night in the Delight Gym.

Coach Louis Singleton's Saratoga senior girls continued their winning ways by taking a 51-33 victory. Saratoga hit 23 and Mervyn McLaury 19 points to pace the winners. Joyce Stone made 27 for Delight.

Delight senior boys grabbed a 65-30 win with Mabrey looping 20 points. James Stanton was high for Saratoga with 19.

Saratoga's next game will be at Bleivins, Dec. 2. Reported by Charlotte Green of Saratoga.

Patterson to Have 4 Fights Next Year

By BEN OLAN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson probably will have four fights next year and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson has "as good a chance as anyone" to fight for the title.

So says Gus D'Amato, Patterson's seerite manager.

D'Amato, who has been feuding with the International Boxing Club, emerged from behind his "Patterson" long enough to tell The Associated Press:

"I have met here with Johansson and his manager Edwin Ahlquist several times within the last few days."

No contracts were signed and no definite arrangements made.

3. He had an offer from Colorado Springs, Colo., that would guarantee Patterson more money than he ever has received.

"We cleared up the air at this meeting with Johansson and Ahlquist," said D'Amato. "We cleared up many misunderstandings that existed involving both of us. Things I was supposed to have said and things that they were quoted as saying."

"I think in view of our new understandings, that when Johansson goes back home he will have a new attitude as to thinking of what might happen."

Johansson, the European heavy weight titleholder and ranked as the No. 1 challenger for the world crown, has won 21 straight bouts since turning pro after the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki. In his most recent fight Sept. 14, he knocked out previously unbeaten Eddie Machen, Redding, Calif., in one round.

Patterson last fought Aug. 13 when he stopped Roy Harris of Cuba and Shott, Tex., in 12 rounds. D'Amato said that Thayer Tut is chairman of the committee which made the substantial offer for a title bout in Colorado Springs next summer. The fight would be a part of a centennial celebration.

Coy Academy Seems Set for Cotton Bowl

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

The Air Force Academy, precocious and coy, appears ready to climax its leap from obscurity to limelight by filling a Cotton Bowl berth. Washington State has asked permission to leave its own back yard. And Rutgers is worried about wrestling schedules.

That's a brief look at the way things shape up today for the year end college football bowl games.

Two of the five major bowls are filled—the Rose and Orange. But only one, the Gator, is without even one team.

Here's the card at the moment: Rose—Iowa (7-1) vs. California (7-3).

Orange—Oklahoma (8) vs. Syracuse (8).

Cotton — Texas Christian (8-1) for sure vs. Air Force (8-0-1) probably.

Sugar — Louisiana State (10-0) for sure vs. Clemson (7-2) possibly.

Gator — Playing a waiting game.

Among the other major college bowls, the Sun is half filled after getting an acceptance from Wyoming (7-3). The Blue Grass has been snubbed by Kentucky and the Tangerine hopes for an acceptance today from Buffalo (8-1).

Air Force appears the best bet to land a berth among all the teams scrambling for someplace to go. But the brass won't make up its mind publicly until after Saturday's game with Colorado.

The Air Force can have its pick of the Cotton, Gator and Tangerine.

The Cotton Bowl host, TCU, made it as Southwest Conference champ, an automatic bowl bonanza such as those picked up by Iowa, California and Oklahoma when they won the Big Ten, Pacific Coast and Big Eight championships. LSU, the nation's top-ranked team, is the Southeastern Conference champ, but while that title usually carries Sugar Bowl rights, its no outright guarantee.

The Blue Grass, turned down by Kentucky in a squad vote, has quite a list of potential guests for its debut in Louisville Dec. 13. Among the teams on the list is Rutgers.

The Knights have record, will play, but want to know quick because of scheduling commitments for winter sports.

The Blue Grass committee is also considering Alabama, North Carolina, Pitt, West Virginia, Florida Georgia Tech, Florida State, Clemson, Tulsa, and Cincinnati. Alabama is a "top choice."

Southern Methodist could be a prime choice for the Gator if it upsets TCU this weekend — but that might nail the Mustangs a Sugar Bowl bid too.

Florida State is an unofficial choice to face Buffalo in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 27. Mississippi Southern East Texas State, Tulsa, Miami (Ohio) and Virginia Military also are prospects.

LSU Best in Nation Says Weekly Poll

By ED CORRIGAN Associated Press Sports Writer Louisiana State, which has completed its first perfect football season in half a century, was ranked No. 1 today in the weekly Associated Press poll for the fifth straight week and appeared on the way to winning its first national championship ever.

Paul Dietzel's outfit finished with a 100 record, won the South eastern Conference championship, and will be the top team in the Sugar Bowl. All this by a team that could do no better than a 500 mark a year ago and was not even considered a threat for the league title two months ago.

There will be one more poll next week, but its seems nothing more than a formality for LSU to stay at the top. LSU is the only undefeated-until major college team.

The sports writers and sports casters gave LSU 115 first-place votes, good for 1,445 points based on the usual system of 10 for first, 9 for second and so on.

First place votes were only 41 first place votes which LSU Tigers did not carry and practically all these ballots listed them in second place.

Auburn, last year's national champion—which would have won the SO title had Louisiana State faltered one little bit, was second with 1,083 points. Auburn had an 8-0-1 mark.

Oklahoma, which will play Syracuse in the Orange Bowl, was the only other team that managed to collect more than 1,000 points. The third-place Sooners' beaten once in nine games; had 1,001 points.

Big Ten champion Iowa, which goes against California in the Rose Bowl, was fourth. The Hawkeyes had 10 first place votes.

Then, following in order were Army, Wisconsin, Texas Christian, Air Force Academy, Ohio State and Syracuse.

Ohio State is the only newcomer to the top 10. The Buckeyes replaced Purdue, which was tied at Indiana. Army took a tumble from third place a week ago, but it probably was because the Gators overhauled last Saturday.

Chapter 32

Amy was gone before there was time to catch her breath or call to her, hurrying away down the drive toward the bus stop. So that was what had been going on all this time.

Her resignation, her willingness to let matters take their own course, had amounted to nothing. She had been safe without knowing it for so long as Amy was in the house. Her tormentors had been too close to arousing Amy's suspicions last night. They could do nothing which she might notice as peculiar.

Something interrupted the far away course of her thoughts—a tiny, innocuous sound coming through the music to her—the light padding sound of Rex shuffling across the carpet. She thought: Who'll take care of him afterward?

She opened her eyes and looked sideways. Rex was standing in the archway of the hall. In his mouth he was tenderly holding the tennis shoe which he had gotten out earlier. She remembered that she hadn't put it away again after she'd made him give it up. She thought: Well, it doesn't make any difference. If he wants it, he can have it.

But Aunt Millicent had noticed, too. She said, "Katherine, darling, just look at that dog. He's going to ruin your nice tennis shoe."

Katherine said nothing.

"Put that shoe down. Do you hear me, Fido? Fido? Rover? What's his name? Put it down now. Night now."

Katherine said dreamily, "Drop it, Rex."

He looked at her mournfully over the edge of the shoe, then he looked halfheartedly down his nose at it, then back at her. He executed a quick dance step, tossed his head, shook the shoe fiercely, prancing and jumping, and then suddenly let go of it. It sailed through the air for two or three feet, plopped on the carpet, rolled over, and lay still. He danced after it and stood over it looking down, panting.

Something had fallen out of the shoe and lay beside it on the carpet: a little, crumpled piece of paper, burned along one edge, with blue lines across it. Rex studied it, sniffed at it, and picked it up in his mouth. Katherine felt the sudden stiffening in the figures on either side of her, and heard Paul say, "Millicent!"

"Yes... yes..."

She thought rapidly: The paper was in that tennis shoe all this time. The shoe was in my closet this morning, and the paper must have fallen out of the dress while Amy was hanging it up. And it landed in the shoe. Why didn't I look? Why didn't I think of going through all those shoes?

Rex was still holding it in his mouth; he shook his head, dropped it for an instant, barked at it, worried it with his nose, pounced on it, and picked it up again.

Aunt Millicent said, "Stand up." Her voice was low and hard. "Don't do anything to frighten him or he'll run away."

The two of them stood up, pulling Katherine with them, keeping

Woman Hires Man to Kill Friend's Wife

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story from Monday's issue of the Star is being reprinted today because the type was not completely legible.)

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A 22-year-old social worker is charged with hiring a man to kill the wife of a state highway patrolman she loved. The man she allegedly hired for $500 turned out to be a police detective.

The intended murder was not committed. The highway patrolman was not implicated.

Barbara Ann Massey, was released under $1,000 bond after her arrest and arraignment yesterday.

The warrant for her arrest charged that she hired a Charlotte Detective Richard Ruth "to murder one Frances Smith."

Police gave this account: Miss Massey asked a man in their eyes on the paper, and waited a moment in a row in front of the couch.

"You must call to him."

Paul started silently across the carpet with a long, lithe, weightless tread like a cat's, while Rex watched him with inquisitive interest. After a second he stopped dancing, the piece of paper still hanging in his mouth, looked at Paul, and then, stood there wagging his tail.

"Call him."

"No..." Katherine squeezed the one word out like a mechanical doll.

Rex thought it was a splendid game. He backed up a step, and stood still again, his tail thumping, ready at any moment to begin his barking and bouncing once more.

Aunt Millicent said, "If you frighten him..." Her voice was low and terrible. She began to pull Katherine across the room, irresistibly, still clamping her arm.

Katherine tried to drag back, planting her feet against the grain of the carpet. Aunt Millicent jerked her; and then, when she still resisted, bent her fingers and plucked her arm viciously. Katherine screamed; and Rex bounded once and shook the paper.

"Call him!"

Katherine allowed herself to be dragged on, resisting less than she had a moment ago. She had only one thought in her mind.

"No."

And she was down on her hands and knees on the carpet. Rex looked at her inquiringly, his head on one side. Their positions were like two dogs facing one another. Katherine thought: I've got to scare him, make him run away, make him think it's part of the game.

She lunged at him suddenly, shouting with all her might, "Run away. Run away. Don't let them catch you Run!"

She flailed her arms at him, still screaming, until she felt a grip on her collar, felt herself turning, collapsing, and she sprawled back on the rug on her face, gasping, her breath knocked out by the fall. She pushed herself up on her elbows, just in time to see that everything was happening the wrong way. Rex had waited for one moment to see what the next turn in this wonderful game would be; and then when she had fallen back away from him, he had run in toward her, the paper still in his mouth. He thumped against her and pawed at her.

"Catch him!"

Charlotte about two weeks ago to suggest someone for the job of killing Mrs. Smith. The man she asked was a police informer who notified Detective Ruth.

Ruth met Miss Massey Nov. 15. He carried a hidden tape recorder. She gave him a $500 check.

Police said Miss Massey was not arrested until Sunday, since officials had not decided on the charge to be placed against her.

Charlotte Solicitor (prosecutor) W. H. Scarborough said the charge is a misdemeanor, carrying a maximum sentence of two years.

This TOO is Texas Eastern ...

Delivering over 500 billion cubic feet of natural gas yearly

That's the annual rate at which Texas Eastern is delivering natural gas to its customers—companies and municipalities—that supply millions of homes and thousands of factories in a dozen or more Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states.

In just 11 years, average daily deliveries have increased more than tenfold.

In early 1947, a day's delivery was only about 138 million cubic feet of gas. Today, the 6000-mile Texas Eastern natural gas pipeline network can deliver more than 1.7 billion cubic feet of gas daily!

And the demand is growing—understandably.

More and more home owners are switching to clean, economical natural gas for heating, cooking and air conditioning. Industry is steadily finding new uses for this highly adaptable fuel. The demand is outstripping all expectations. Now a new customer—the petrochemical industry—is calling for more and more natural gas. Here natural gas is used as a raw material in manufacturing a fantastically-varied assortment of home and commercial products.

In every direction, the outlook for this once-wasted natural resource grows steadily brighter.
